Wind Song is a beautifully presented and above average example of the Bill Dixon Moody 35.

Built in 1995 and launched in 1996 she is one of the last Moody 35's to be built by Marine Projects.

Owned by a caring owner, she has been a much loved and cherished yacht, but health issues now mean an unexpected switch to a motor yacht for this season, so she is reluctantly for sale.

She has been extensively upgraded in recent years and offers a winning combination of good, fast sailing performance, excellent seakeeping and superb accommodation.

With up to six berths, including a good sized fwd double cabin and a walk through aft cabin with an impressive double berth and seating area, as well as an en-suite heads/shower room, she is a well built and comfortable center cockpit yacht.

Further details in the specification section but her recent upgrades include:

OWNERS COMMENTS:

My wife and I have owned Wind Song for 6 years now. She was bought after a long search to find an outstanding example of a Moody 35 with the intent of keeping her for a long time and sailing in retirement from 2019. As a result my wife and I have renewed and upgraded her to create the boat we wanted to a very high standard regardless of costs. She has been professionally maintained by Ocean Marine in Chichester Marina to include a full engine service each year, laundered sails, maintenance checks etc.
Very lightly used around the Solent and to Poole other than one West Country trip. Very much loved and cherished. The sale was not planned but recent health issues mean I have to turn away from anything likely to be physical. This is a beautifully made "little Ship" that has been a joy to own.
